If you have ever wanted to learn another language, now it's as easy as stopping by the Burleson Public Library on Johnson Avenue.

Library Director Gayla Tennison said the library recently acquired Mango Languages, which allows any library patron with a Burleson Library card to choose from 12 foreign languages to study online. Those languages include Spanish, Mandarin Chinese, Japanese, French, German and Italian.

According to the publicity for Mango Languages, through the online tutorials, "Mango's unique teaching method quickly engages you in real conversations between two native speakers. Your instructor will take you through every step of the process! Each lesson revisits previously learned material, but you have complete control over your learning experience."

For more information about the new online tutorial, call the Burleson Public Library at 817-295-6131. The library is located at 248 S.W. Johnson Ave.
