One of the crosswalks for Taylor Elementary School is being moved due to construction on Alsbury Boulevard.

Traffic is down to one lane in each direction from the I-35W service road to James Circle. The City is temporarily moving the school crosswalk from the intersection of Heberle Drive and Alsbury, to the northeast exit of Taylor Elementary. The crosswalk will remain there until the Alsbury construction is complete, which is expected to happen by Christmas 2009. There is also a crosswalk at the intersection of Alsbury and Douglas Street.

Those entering the school parking lot must turn right from Alsbury (coming from Renfro Street) into the school entrance closest to the playground. By law, no left turns are allowed from Alsbury into the parking lot.

There is a designated traffic pattern in place once a parent enters the school parking lot. Drivers are not permitted to park, stop, or stand on Alsbury while waiting to enter the school parking lot. Drivers may continue east or turn on to a side street, park, and walk back to the school with their child. There are sidewalks on both sides of Alsbury. The school district will have crossing guards at both crosswalks.
