Dear Burleson Builder,

In a continuing effort to enhance service to the building industry in Burleson, we will offer, to all builders, a "no charge" temporary electric inspection beginning November 3, 2003. Currently, builders must submit a form (for each inspection request) signed by the builder and master electrician. For those builders not employing third party energy inspectors, payment of the $30.00 fee is required in addition to the form.

To streamline the process, a single temporary electric service agreement form (see attached) is to be signed by the builder and submitted to the Building Inspection Office. This single form will cover all subsequent requests for temporary electric service inspection.

Temporary gas service inspections will still require the submittal of a separate form per address and the payment of $30.00.

Thank You,

Building Inspections

The building contractor, by signing this form agrees to release the City of Burleson and its agents from any and all liability of every kind and nature for damage to persons and/or property which may occur from defective wiring methods and/or electrical equipment on those premises requested for such service or from failure to inspect said wiring methods and/or electrical equipment and hereby agrees to indemnify the City of Burleson and its agents for and to hold the City of Burleson and its agents harmless from any and all such liability.

Further, the building contractor agrees to the following stipulations:

- The electrical service must be capable of receiving service and all electrical devices must be complete or capped off.
- Temporary electric service will be for thirty (30) days only. At the end of thirty (30) days, if final inspection has not been requested or if inspected and did not pass inspection, Oncor or UCS will be notified to disconnect.
- Occupancy of the structure while on temporary electric service will result in termination of this agreement.
