Members of the Burleson Heritage Foundation are hosting a Burleson Centennial Celebration Dinner on Saturday, Sept. 29, at the Baker House in Old Town Burleson. The Baker House is located at 117 E. Ellison St. Arrive at 6:30 p.m. for a reception then enjoy a sit-down dinner at 7 p.m. Guests are requested to dress in Centennial period attire. There will be awards for the best period dress. The night will also include live entertainment.

The cost is $20 per person. Tickets are available at the Burleson Visitors Center, 124 W. Ellison St., 10 a.m.-4 p.m., Wednesday-Saturday. Tickets must be purchased, by check or cash, by Sept. 22. Tickets are also available at Bailey's, 140 W. Bufford St., Monday-Friday, 10 a.m.-5 p.m.

The Burleson Heritage Foundation (BHF) was founded in March 1991 to preserve and create awareness of Burleson's history. The Burleson Visitors Center is owned by the City of Burleson and managed by the Burleson Heritage Foundation. Members of the BHF are also the catalyst behind the restoration of Rail Car #330, which is located next to the center, and Parlor Car #411 which will be in place adjacent to Rail Car #330 in time for the Oct. 13 Founders Day celebration.
