“Dig into Reading” is the theme of the Burleson Public Library’s Summer Reading Club which kicks off on June 1, 10 a.m.-4 p.m., at 248 S.W. Johnson Ave. Children, birth to 11; teens, 12-18; and adults are invited to join in the fun and win cool prizes.

The youngest readers earn a small prize for every five hours read. Babies (birth-3 years old) use a special log. Children 4-11 use time logs. Certificates will be awarded after 20 reading hours are completed.

The prizes get bigger the older the reader! For every five hours a teen reader reads, he/she earns an entry in the weekly prize raffle. While supplies last, a free ticket to the Texas Rangers home game on Aug. 18 will go to those who read five hours; a set of designer stereo headphones goes to those with 15 hours under their belts; and a gel bracelet with a 2 GB USB drive concealed inside goes to those with 25 hours of reading.

Adults who read any 10 books win their choice of a mini USB car charger or a canvas book bag. Three lucky winners will be randomly picked to win a round of golf for two at the newly redesigned Hidden Creek Golf Course. Adults may read any fiction or non-fiction books, audio books or eBooks.

Summer Reading Club sponsors include Applebee’s, Cotton Patch Café, Dairy Queen, Firehouse Subs, Papa Murphy’s, Rosa’s Café, the Texas Rangers, Best Buy, FC Dallas, Half Price Books, Keith’s Comics, Mooyah, On The Border, Paizo Publishing, Premiere Cinemas, Roll2Play, Friends of the Burleson Public Library and Hidden Creek Golf Course.
