The Burleson Public Library is spearheading a drive to collect pantry items for Harvest House and its clients.

The drive will take place Monday, Sept. 23-Saturday, Sept. 28, at the library, 248 S.W. Johnson Ave. Thanks to the Friends of the Library, anyone who gives one pantry item will receive a used paperback book from the lobby book sale. Anyone who donates two pantry items will receive a hardcover book from the Friends of the Library.

September is Hunger Action Month. This is the time of year that the food pantry runs dangerously low before the holiday food drives begin. Harvest House needs everything from canned goods to boxed goods, pasta, beans, and toiletries. For more about the Harvest House, go to <http://www.yourharvesthouse.org/>.

The library hours (until Sept. 30) are 10 a.m.-8 p.m. Monday-Thursday, 10 a.m.-6 p.m. on Friday and 10 a.m.-4 p.m. on Saturday. The collection site will be inside the library, near the circulation counter. For more information call the library at 817-426-9210.
