You'll have to reschedule your picture with Joey the donkey.

Joey the Rein Donkey is sad to report that Christmas at Russell Farm, and pictures with him, will have to be scaled back this year due to the weather. The City-owned farm on CR 714 is still very wet and muddy from the recent ice storm. The Thursday and Friday hours, Dec. 12-13, have been canceled. On Saturday, Dec. 14, visit the farm between noon and 6 p.m. Joey and his friends will not be available for pictures due to the muddy terrain, but, you can tour the Russell Boren House and check out the Christmas decorations. Members of the Eumathian Club have decorated the Christmas trees inside the farmhouse. There is no admission for Saturday's festivities.
