Do you want access to free movies, music, eBooks and more? The Burleson Public Library is doing that! The library has made thousands of movies, TV shows, music albums, eBooks, audiobooks and comics available for mobile and online access through a new partnership with hoopla digital.

Burleson library cardholders can now download the free hoopla mobile app on their Android or IOS device or visit hoopladigital.com to begin enjoying titles from Hollywood studios, record companies and publishers. These are available to borrow 24 hours a day/seven days a week/365 days a year for instant streaming or temporary downloading to smartphones, tablets, computers and Apple TV.

“We’re always looking for new content to add to our digital library,” Sara Miller, library services manager, said. “With hoopla digital, we added thousands of titles while eliminating the waiting period. We also added downloadable movies, TV shows, comics and music, which are new formats for us. Users only need a Burleson library card to access this service via the hoopla app or website - free of charge. The automatic return feature also means no late fees.”

Burleson Public Library cards are issued at no charge if you live or own property within the city limits of Burleson. The non-resident card cost is $25 for one year of unlimited checkouts from the Burleson Library only (single user) or $50 for one year of unlimited checkouts from the Burleson Library only (family membership). Opportunities are available for non-residents to qualify for a library card through volunteer service to the library.

The City’s library is the 19th library in the state of Texas to partner with hoopla digital. Current partners include Austin Public Library, BiblioTech, Houston Public Library, Denton Public Library, San Antonio Public Library and others. hoopla digital is a category-creating service that partners with public libraries across North America to provide online and mobile access to movies, TV shows, music, eBooks, audiobooks and comics.
