Hidden Creek Golf Course Pro set to compete in the 99th PGA Championship

With a ninth place finish, Greg Gregory is set to compete for the Wanamaker Trophy.

Greg Gregory, assistant golf professional at Hidden Creek Golf Course, is headed to compete in the 99th PGA Championship at Quail Hollow Club in Charlotte, August 10-13. A top 20 finish at the 50th PGA Professional Championship, yesterday, set Gregory up for his first-ever opportunity to compete for the Wanamaker Trophy. Previous winners of the PGA Championship include Phil Mickelson, Tiger Woods, Rory McIlroy, Jack Nicklaus and Ben Hogan just to name a few.

Gregory was part of a field of 312 players from across the U.S. that competed at the 50th PGA Professional Championship in Sunriver, Oregon. Gregory ended the tournament tied for 9th place.
